What Do I Do if I am Worried About a Child?

If you become concerned about: Something a child says, marks or bruising on a student or changes in a child's behaviour or demeanour or any other aspect of their physical or emotional well-being, you must inform the Designated Safeguarding Lead. If you feel that a child may be at risk of harm but are not sure, then inform the Designated Safeguarding Lead immediately who will offer advice and take appropriate action. Child abuse happens to all children regardless of gender, culture, religion, social background and those with or without a disability.

A copy of the school's safeguarding policy is located in the school office or on the school website. Sometimes a child may disclose information to you. If this happens then the following actions must take place.

What Do I Do if A Child Discloses They Are Being Harmed?

React calmly. Listen carefully to the child, particularly what is said spontaneously. Do not promise confidentiality. Explain to the child that you may need to pass on the information if you are worried about their safety. Pass on concern immediately to the Designated Safeguarding Lead. Reassure the child that they have done the right thing.

Record carefully what the child says in their words including how and when the account was given. Date, time and sign the record. Pass this on to the Designated Safeguarding Lead immediately.

Types of Harm:

Everybody has a responsibility to keep all children under the age of 18 safe. This applies to both the home and school environment. Harm is identified in four ways:

Physical—this is when a child is deliberately hurt or injured.

Sexual—this is when a child is influenced or forced to take part in a sexual activity. This can be a physical activity or none physical, e.g. being made to look at an inappropriate image.

Emotional—this is when a child is made to feel frightened, worthless or unloved. It can be by shouting, using threats or making fun of someone. It can also be when children see their parents, or visitors to the home, fighting or using violence

Neglect—this is when a child is not being taken care of by their parents. It can be poor hygiene, poor diet, not keeping appointments for additional support, not coming to school or being left home alone.

Extremism and Radicalisation- this is the holding of extreme political or religious views.

Staff Conduct:

If you are concerned about the conduct of a member of staff, following an observation or disclosure, the following actions must take place: Immediately inform the Head of School. In their absence, immediately inform the Designated Safeguarding Lead.

Keeping Yourself Safe:

Be careful how you interact with or speak to a child, the child may interpret it differently.

Avoid physical contact with children unless you are preventing them from immediately harming themselves or others.

Avoid being on your own with a child, always ensure that a door is open and that you are visible to others.

It's best not to do anything for a child that he or she can do for him or herself.

Always tell someone if a child touches you or speaks to you inappropriately. Log down the incident time and date it. Then pass it on to the Head of School or Designated Safeguarding Lead.

If you have concerns about the conduct of staff, it is your responsibility to inform the Head of School or Designated Safeguarding Lead.

Remember... if in doubt... ask.
